Crawford AuSable School District officials will complete the second-phase to replace the bleachers in the Grayling High School's gymnasium this fall.

Last August, the Crawford AuSable Board of Education approved a $68,636 bid for the purchase and installation of bleachers for both sides on the main floor of the high school's gym.

The new bleachers replaced seating that was installed when the Grayling High School was built in 1972.

C-1, C-2 canoe races slated for this weekend

The 2010 Spike's Challenge – a weekend of canoe racing that includes both C-1 (one-person) and C-2 (two-person) events – is slated for July 17-18.

Many AuSable River Canoe Marathon teams will use the Spike's Challenge C-2 race as a warm-up event. The Spike's Challenge features a start that is similar to the AuSable Marathon – teams line up in the street and run to the river, entering the water at the Old AuSable Fly Shop – and the race gives paddlers and spectators a daytime look at the first four checkpoints of the 120-mile Grayling-to-Oscoda event slated for July 24. The Spike's Challenge C-2 race starts in the morning (9 a.m.) and the AuSable Marathon starts at night (9 p.m.). Pg. 13

Black Bear could feature more than 350 riders

While most early Sunday mornings find few people in downtown Grayling, in the early morning hours of July 25 the area will teem with over 500 riders, family and friends for the start of the 2010 Avita Water Black Bear Bicycle Tour.

"It's pretty impressive," said Fred Fisher III, Rotarian and co-chair for the event. He noted that this year's entries include not only Michigan riders but riders and visitors from Washington, Arizona, Tennessee, Illinois, Colorado, South Carolina, Indiana and Ohio.

The riders depart in front of The Bicycle Shop and head for North Down River Road on the way to Oscoda, located at the mouth of Lake Huron. Pg. 12

Bike rings placed in downtown Grayling

Grayling's Department of Public Works employees recently placed bike rings by some light poles in downtown Grayling. The bike rings were donated to the city from the Grayling Rotary Club in 2005 to mark the 100th anniversary of Rotary International. The city paid to have the bike rings powder coated to match the Crawford AuSable School District colors. Grayling Rotary Club member Wayne Koppa said the bike rings make cycling more inviting to citizens and tourists because they allow a place to secure their bicycles. Koppa said a similar project was completed a Rotary Club in Owen Sound, Ontario. Above, avid cyclist Ryan Harris, 19, of Grayling, is pictured by a bike ring located near the Bicycle Shop.

City to continue chlorinating water

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

The City of Grayling will continue chlorinating the water this week to ensure that Coliform bacteria is no longer in the community's water system.

Chad Beckett, director of Grayling's Department of Public Works (DPW), said the city was informed by Great Lakes Water Quality Lab of Lake Ann, that two samples taken from the water system contained Coliform bacteria. The Great Lakes Water Quality Lab is a state-certified lab.

Beckett said that Coliform bacteria is the most common form of bacteria, which can be found on people's skin or in the air. He said the bacteria is not harmful, but is the first indication that something may be wrong with the water system.

Beckett said that the city draws two samples from the water system per month to make sure it is safe for citizens to drink and use in preparing food.

After learning of the positive test for Coliform bacteria on Thursday, city DPW employees immediately began chlorinating the water.

Beckett suspects that Coliform bacteria may have entered the water system when new water mains were tied into an existing water main at the intersection of Ingham Street and Maple Street.

Another theory is the Coliform bacteria was a result of the high heat and humidity and came into the system through Grayling's water tower. Beckett said the water tower is never filled to full capacity, so condensation on the top of the water tower containing Coliform bacteria may have come down into the water supply.

As precautionary measures, the city water tower was overflowed. Water hydrants in various areas in the community were also drained.

Beckett took two water samples at the

Run for the Border riders roll from Legion Post #106

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Dozens of motorcycle riders traveled from Sault Ste. Marie to Grayling last week to join forces with other riders to highlight the service and needs of veterans.

The fourth annual Run for the Border is a charity motorcycle ride sponsored by the American Legion Riders. The purpose of the ride is to generate funds for the Heroes to Hometowns program, which is instrumental in providing a support network and coordinates resources for severely injured service members returning home.

"We raise money for our Hometown Heroes and people in need if they are wounded and need some help," said Hal Woodgate, a Sault Ste. Marie soldier who has a career spanning over three decades.

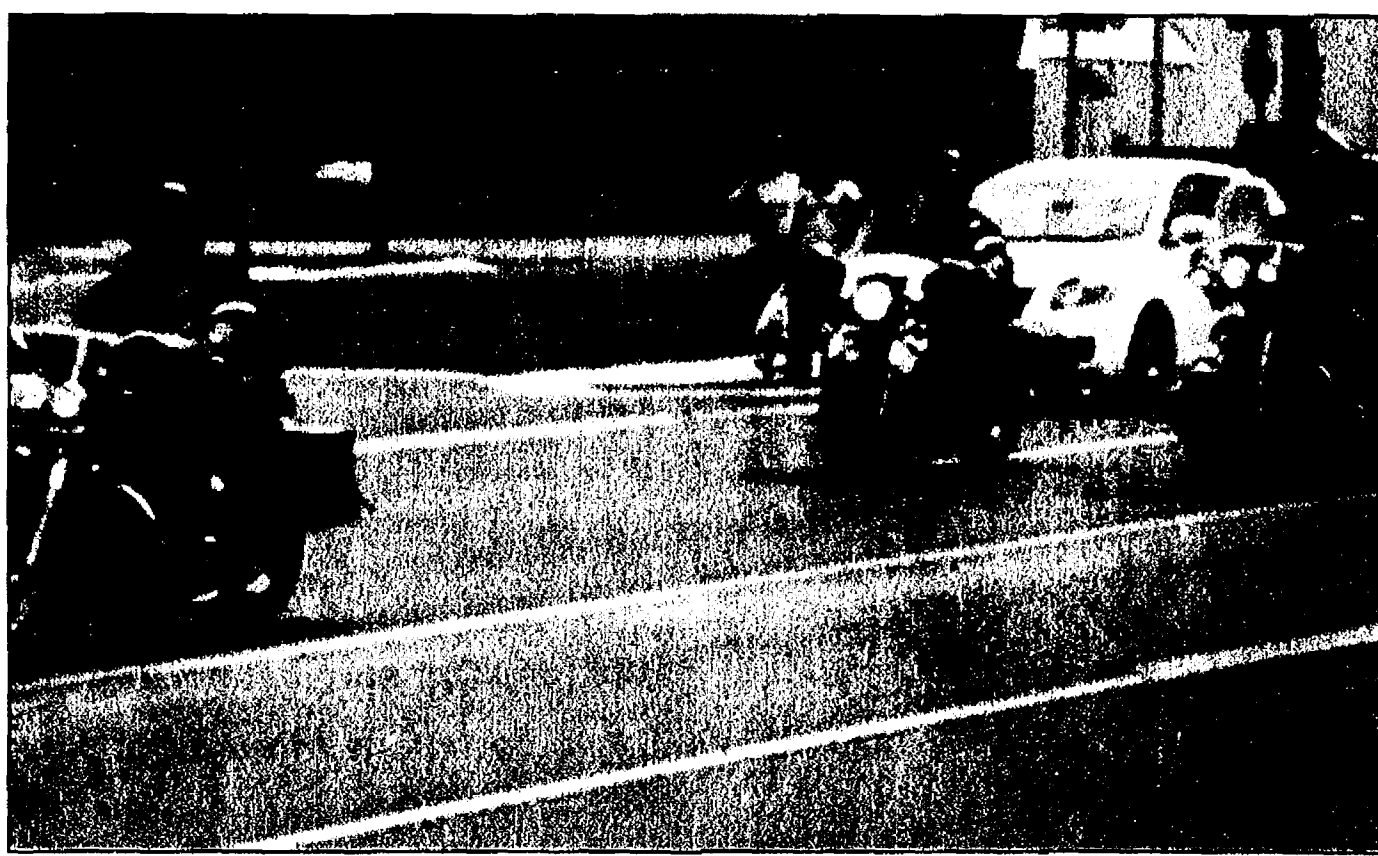

The riders left Sault Ste. Marie early Thursday morning and took a rain soaked ride over the Mackinac Bridge down to Grayling. While in the community, they dried off as much as they could, and were offered a luncheon and hospitality by the American Legion Post's #106 Members and the Women's Auxiliary.

"We come down, they put on a nice meal for us, and then we head out," Woodgate said.

Grayling is chosen as the gathering point to draw motorcyclists from Grand Rapids, Lansing and Detroit. Riders have come as far as Illinois and several riders from Minnesota joined the ride this year. The only requirement to take part in the Run for the Border - to the northern tip of the Upper Peninsula - is participants are asked to collect donations for the Heroes to Hometowns fund from family, friends and businesses. No other fees are required to participate.

Ken Bedeau of Cass Lake, Minn., is a Vietnam veteran who was in U.S. Army in 1969-70, serving in a support unit and intelligence reconnaissance unit for the 131st Aviation Battalion.

County controller's contract extended

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Crawford County's top non-elected official was recently given a pay hike and contract extension by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners.

The board, at its July 1 ways and means committee meeting, agreed to replace Crawford County Controller/Administrator Paul Compo's contract with a new three year pact. Compo's contract was set to expire in 2011, but was extended until 2013 with the added two years. The board will act on the contract at its next regular meeting scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, July 21.

Compo's pay was increased from $52,000 per year to $54,500. The salary was approved by the board last October and goes into effect in August.

Compo was hired by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners in 1998. Commissioners agreed to cut the pay they received for serving on the board and laid off a part-time secretary to bring him in to help solve county budget woes.

"I very much like being here and there is still a lot of work to do," Compo said.

Because of dropping property tax values, Compo said county officials face a tough task to develop the budget for the 2010-11 fiscal year.

"The county is trying to keep offering the existing services it already provides and maybe add some services, which is going to be tough in the present economy," Compo said.

Over the next three years, Compo said the county will address moving the Michigan State University Extension office and District Health Department #10 offices to the former Grayling Fish Hatchery building. Officials will also field requests from other county departments seeking to add services.

"We don't want to be stagnant," he said. "We try to improve and add to the services we offer."

Youngsters reel in first fish, new fishing poles

The Grayling Youth Booster Club planted 400 trout in the river by the AuSable River Park for the annual Fourth of July kid's fishing contest. Sheriff Kirk Wakefield and retired Crawford County Sheriff's Office Corrections Officer Jim Golnick cleaned the fish for the young anglers. Left, Olivia Seaback and Logan Duvall were the first youth to catch a trout and won new fishing poles. Kids who caught trout after the first fish were reeled in were given $1 until the contest was closed.

Balcony bleachers will be replaced

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

Crawford AuSable School District officials will complete the second-phase to replace the bleachers in the Grayling High School's gymnasium this fall.

Last August, the Crawford AuSable Board of Education approved a $68,636 bid for the purchase and installation of bleachers for both sides on the main floor of the high school's gym.

The new bleachers replaced seating that was installed when the Grayling High School was built in 1972.

Funds to purchase the bleachers were allocated from the school district's 10-year capital improvement plan as well as the district's annual maintenance plan.

In June, the school board approved a $37,927 bid to replace the upper balcony bleachers.

"In order to spread the cost - this is the second-phase of the project," said Crawford AuSable School District Superintendent Joe Powers.

In recent years, Powers said school and athletic officials have fielded a number of complaints about the wooden bleachers splintering and from people who have fallen or tripped over the bleachers.

"It's for safety reasons and liability, but it's also reinvesting in the school," Powers said.

The new bleachers include metal framing and hard-plastic seats, which are standard for athletic facility facilities, Powers said. The bleachers include side rails and handrails to assist people getting to and from their seats and are compliant with the Americans With Disabilities Act.

Interkal Inc., a spectator-seating manufacturer based in Kalamazoo, did the bleacher replacement last year and will do the second phase of the project in November. The bleachers will be installed between the Grayling Vikings Volleyball season and the Grayling Vikings Boy's and Girl's Basketball seasons.

Powers said local spectators and fans from other teams, who attend games at the school, have praised the bleacher project.

"It's so much nicer," Powers said. "Safety is something we are very concerned about - not only for our fans and students - but also the visitors. We've had lots of complaints, but they were nearly 40 years old."

Correction

In an article, which ran in the July 8 edition of the Avalanche, titled "Plethora of plans proposed by MSU Extension for fish hatchery grounds," it stated that Rep. Andy Neumann, D-Alpena and Rep. Joel Sheltrown, D-West Branch were vying for the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 3 primary for the 36th Senate Seat held by Sen. Tony Stamas, R-Midland. Sheltrown has withdrawn from the race. The Avalanche apologizes for the error.

Issues and Opinions

Almanack

by Richard Milliman

Fact or fiction: Does it matter?

MANOOGIAN MESS – One possible factor in this year's free-for-all battle for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan may be completely imaginary.

That's the long-rumored mysterious Manoogian Mansion party at the taxpayer-supplied home of former Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick in 2002 where all sorts of questionable goings-on were supposed to have occurred, followed by a suggested subsequent police cover up of everything about it.

Republican governor candidate Mike Cox, then new on the attorney general's job, also investigated the matter, and reported nothing illegal had occurred; Mr. Cox referred to the mysterious party as "an urban myth."

No other official source has reported any credible evidence of the party, and nobody yet has openly admitted attending the party, but it may have a telling influence anyway on who becomes Michigan's next governor.

One poll about a month ago reported that 83 percent of likely general election voters in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties believe the Manoogian Mansion party actually happened, and only 6 percent think it didn't.

Mr. Cox may find it difficult to defend his position with voters, especially when 83 percent of them don't agree that the party is a myth.

The question has come up repeatedly in the five-way race for the Republican nomination, and should Mr. Cox become the GOP nominee, Democrats, either directly or indirectly through one of those mysterious non-affiliated but supportive private political action groups, could become more forceful about Manoogian madness.

Did the party really happen? It's still questionable. But does it make any difference now as long as most folks believe it did?

Plato's ancient dictum about "pictures in the minds of men" continues as a truism in decision-making fields such as advertising, politics and other forms of public persuasion:

It's not the facts, but what people believe the facts to be, that determine their action.

* * *

YEAR FOR WOMEN? – Voters so far across the country have indicated 2010 is a good year for women candidates.

Women candidates in California, Nevada, South Carolina, Arkansas, for example, won high profile primaries, and a plethora of female candidates grace this year's ballots for local, state and federal office in many states.

However, a poll taken about a month ago by a North Carolina firm indicated that may not be true in Michigan.

Michigan US Sen. Debbie Stabenow is not a candidate this year; her present term expires in 2012. But the North Carolina poll claimed that if Sen. Stabenow were running for reelection in Michigan this year, she would be trailing a mythical Republican candidate by 43 percent to 48 percent.

Another news item – probably unrelated – recently disclosed that former Michigan Gov. John Engler, now head of the politically powerful National Association of Manufacturers in Washington, DC, has purchased a lakefront home back in Shiawassee County, Mich.

Hmmm. You don't suppose the former governor is planning to vacate one of the most influential and highest paid lobbying-oriented position in the country to try to become a US senator in the 2012 election?

Nah. It probably won't happen. But, who knows?

* * *

RISING HOPES – Many political fans laughed, or at least snickered, last March when Ohio's US Rep. John Boehner predicted Republicans could win back control of the House in November, claiming it would be "a steep climb but it's doable."

Democrats now hold a 255-178 advantage, with two vacancies.

Now Mr. Boehner has found public agreement from an unlikely source: President Obama's press secretary, Robert Gibbs, who this week said Democrats could lose their House majority, figuring anywhere from 40 to 60 House seats could be competitive in November.

They're probably right at this point, although it was not apparent when Mr. Boehner first suggested publicly it could be done.

At least two and maybe four of those changeable seats are in Michigan. Two were won by Democrats ousting Republican incumbents in the Obama election two years ago, seats now held by Democrats Mark Schauer of Battle Creek (7th district) and Gary Peters of Oakland County (9th district).

Republican Rep. Thaddeus McCotter of Livonia (11th district) could be in play this year, and the retirement of Democrat Bart Stupak (1st district) opens up the possibility of a Republican swing in that vast northern Michigan district.

If Republicans win control, Mr. Boehner, as GOP leader in the House, stands a good chance of moving up to Speaker of the House, replacing Democrat Nancy Pelosi.

I am disappointed by parade

To the editor:

I am embarrassed by what my hometown presents to visitors as an Independence Day 4th of July parade. If we are this apathetic while participating in two wars and our bravest being killed and maimed daily, I shudder to think of our expression of patriotism in peacetime. Take the fire trucks and ambulances out of it and what did you have?

The Booster Club does a wonderful job with the city park activities and puts on a tremendous fireworks display. A terrific parade early would not only compliment and enhance a full day of crowd pleasing fun and merchant profiting, it would pay rightful tribute to our fighting troops and veterans.

We have the Michigan National Guard training camp on the edge of town and have seen our hometown soldiers sent to the Middle East hotspots a number of times. Where in the world is guard participation on this special day? You would think they didn't even exist, yet they are headquartered three miles away and constantly encircle us with activities. Their non-participation on the 4th is puzzling indeed. Is it because they weren't asked or invited? I find it hard to believe they wouldn't have a marching band, troops and vehicles in the parade and on display if notified well in advance. They deserve the admiration and applause of the gallery on this special day and should want to enhance public relations. But, there is no way the 4th of July parade should take any back seat in importance. I don't think it's even good business to slight one in favor of the other. The same equipment and people building and hauling floats three or four weeks later can present themselves earlier for the 4th.

I am going to dedicate myself to this end. I got some good things going before and now I'm heavily involved with my own newsletter, which takes up a lot of my time. But now I see things progressing rapidly, I took on too much trying to make it a special weekend the last time.

This time I will just work at injecting some snap and enthusiastic participation into a lively July 4th parade, one you're proud to march in as well as look at. The 4th of July is far too special to be treated this way and we, in our town, are too good to let it happen again. I will get entries.

Can't believe caseworker would refuse a person sustenance

To the editor:

Throughout the course of my residency here in Grayling, I have had to call upon the services and/or goods of the Christian Help Center two or three times in 2006. Since that time, I have donated food to the Christian Help Center - always remembering and grateful for the assistance they provide to low-income individuals and families.

Unfortunately, in order for people to get this type of help, they have to obtain a food voucher from the Department of Human Services office.

Today I found myself in need of a little food to help me survive for three days until I get food benefits on my Bridge Card.

When I went to DHS to request a voucher, I was informed that my caseworker, refused to provide a voucher because I am "...only three days away from getting food on my Bridge Card." I walked away baffled, hurt, frustrated, angry and hungry.

I cannot believe that a caseworker for DHS would refuse a poor person a couple days sustenance - as if $200 a month in Bridge Card food is enough to live off from month to month. Especially since the food is donated to the Christian Help Center (by persons like myself who like to give back when I can).

For a grown man to live off $50 a week in food is nearly impossible. Nevertheless, if anyone is willing to donate a jar of peanut butter, a canned food item, or a roll of toilet paper, I will gladly pick it up and start a real Christian Help Center that isn't dictated by DHS workers who are living high on the hog and could truly care less about the poor.

If you don't like the ban, tell it to your senator or congressman

To the editor:

If you are a person who doesn't like the smoking ban, tell it to your congressman or senator. Give your bartenders and owners a break, we don't like it any better than you do, and we can't do anything about it alone.

If you get real lucky you just might find a congressman or senator that cares about something other than their own party's interests, but on that note, don't hold your breath.

Just remember this law inconveniences you smokers, but it's putting bartenders out of work and bankrupting owners.

Lovells Historical Society presents Beaver Beer and Banjo

July is Beaver Beer and Banjo time at the Lovells Township Historical Society.

Back in the 1960's a Lovells businessman, fly tyer and trapper, Pat Harwood, would save some beaver from his winter trapping season. His wife, Margie prepared a beaver dinner and brought it to Roy Scott's Bar (now the Riverside Tavern) for the local townspeople to enjoy.

On Saturday, July 17, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., the Lovells Township Historical Society will again revive this old tradition and present The 4th Annual Beaver, Beer and Banjo Dinner, an evening of historic fun at the Riverside Tavern at the corner of County 612 and F97 in Lovells.

Free beaver barley stew, prepared by Dixie Dave of Birch Run, will be served with rolls. Last year we had a very limited amount of beaver stew. This year we have a good supply. Beer and other beverages may be purchased from the tavern.

Barry VanGuilder, a famous banjo player, who used to attend the original beaver dinners, will play banjo music and sing.

The event is free and open to the public.

Proceeds from donations will go to the Anna Biernat Scholarship Fund, to aid a local college student.

The Bible Speaks

Cremation History

Cremation goes back in history to the customs and practices of the ancient heathen world. Aryan folklore implies they were one of the first cultures to venerate fire. They disposed of their dead as they gathered around their camp fires. Nomadic tribes practiced cremation and carried cinerary urns containing the ashes of their loved ones with them in their wanderings. The Viking dead were placed in their boats, which were set on fire and pushed out to sea. Cinerary urns have been found in the rugged country of Russia and Scandinavia. Cremation is still widely practiced in India among the Hindus as part of their religion. However, the British government in 1829 stopped widows in India from throwing themselves on the funeral pyres of their dead husbands while they burned.

Cremation was practically the universal custom in the last days of the Roman Empire. The Romans were greatly influenced by the Greek idea that in the rite of cremation, fire crested every living thing and that to free the soul from the bonds of matter, the body must be reduced to its original elements by flame.

It was Christianity and the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead which ended cremation as a custom in the western world. The Roman Catholic church issued an edict which caused Charlemagne to outlaw cremation around A.D. 800. Because the custom was so deeply rooted among the Saxons, the death penalty was instituted to suppress its practice. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that, "There can be no doubt that the practice of cremation in Europe was at the first stopped, and then prevented, in great measure, by the Christian doctrine of the resurrection of the body, partly also by the notion that the Christian body was redeemed and purified."

The revival of cremation goes back to 1869, when Italian scientist, Brunetti, devised a modern type of cremation which has been greatly improved and currently operating in hundreds of crematoriums in America. There are many Christians who remain ignorant of both the Bible teaching and the historical roots of cremation.

A society which is without conscience about the practice of abortion, suicide, and euthanasia will find little reason to question the cremation of that which remains. The influence of secular humanism has created a "throw away" society. This has resulted also in a general disrespect for the human body created in God's image. Is it any wonder little public respect is paid both to the dead and the bereaved during funeral possessions today? The revival of cremation is another step in our return to our pagan roots. Clara L. Sorenson

Clara Lottie Sorenson, 92, of Grayling, passed away quietly on Tuesday, July 13, 2010 at Mercy Hospital.

She was born in Grayling on May 6, 1918 to the late Marshall and Lottie (Starrett) Atkinson.

She was married to Robert Carl Sorenson for 60 years.

Clara had a strong faith and was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, where she played the organ for many years.

In the good old days she loved to ski at the Skyline Ski Club and the Grayling Winter Sports Park.

She volunteered for the Red Cross Blood Bank. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary for 50 years.

She was recognized for her dedication to the GHS Alumni Association and was Grand Marshall of the AuSable River Festival parade in 1998.

Clara and her friends (10 local gals) formed a sewing club in 1935, that later turned into playing cards (smoke) and met every two weeks. This friendship continued for 50 plus years. It was called "The Just Us Club," and sometimes the spouses were invited.

She belonged to the Grayling Bowling League and also found time to be a Cub Scout leader.

Clara and her husband owned and operated the South Side Grocery Store from 1935 to 1960. Clara ran the store mostly by herself. She even cut the pork-chops and ground the hamburger.

She was one of the persons instrumental in forming the Grayling Alumni Association which continued for 50 years.

She received numerous awards for her services to the community.

Clara loved Grayling and the people here.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Robert; infant sister, Edna; and brother, Alex Atkinson.

Clara is survived by her children: Nancy Cox of Grayling, Judy Sorenson of Saginaw, Norman (Mary) of Mt. Pleasant, John of Benton Harbor; grandchildren: Billy Cox of Cadillac, Joel Cox of Traverse City, Jamie Cox of Grayling, David (Stacey) of Rockford, Elissa Cox of Grayling, Brent (Angel) Sorenson of Benton Harbor, Mark Sorenson of Gaylord, Paula (Andrew) Stamer of Mt. Pleasant, Kent Sorenson of Chicago; great-grandchildren: Angie, Alexa, Aaron, Amanda, Olivia, Danica and Hannah; and great great-granddaughter, Jaylyn Cox.

Visitation will be held at Sorenson-Lockwood Funeral Home on Friday, July 16 from 2 p.m. - 8 p.m.

A Celebration of Life will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, July 17, 2010, at St. John's Lutheran Church, 710 Spruce Street.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. John's Lutheran Church or the GHS Alumni Scholarship Fund.

In Memory of

Jack Schmidt

In loving memory of Jack Thomas Schmidt, Oct. 22, 1976 - July 14, 2008.

It's only been two years since you left this world. I still want to know why? The ones that have done this will pay.

In the two years since you passed, I have missed your smile and funny laugh. I missed your compassion for others.

This has been the hardest two years of my life. You are terribly missed.

Love always,
Mom and family

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank Linda Krajewski and the crew at the Swamp II for hosting the 6th Annual Horseshoe Tournament. As always, the food and service were great! Thank you to sponsor and organizer Mary Becker of Nationwide Corporate Promotions for putting it all together for us. You're dedication to the shelter is stellar! Many thanks also to all our participants and team sponsors: Grayling Auto Repair, The Keg Bar, Huffman Excavating, Senior Independence, and K & K Masonry, to the Ramada Inn for the donation of gift certificates, and to the Crawford County Avalanche and the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce for promoting the event, all to help raise funds for our dogs and cats. See you next year!

See Norman, he will tell you what you "need to hear" not what you "want to hear". You won't get a bunch of lip service. He will provide you with a car fax and a complete history on a pre-owned vehicle and show you the cost on a new one. If he doesn't have what you are looking for he will do what he can to find it.

Tune in next week to find out what happens next.

Quilts donated to ambulance service

Jodi Ball, representing the woman of the Grayling Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and her sister, Denise Florida, made 19 baby quilts and donated them to the Mobile Medical Response (MMR) Ambulance Service. Jean Vigela of Grayling donated material for the project. MMR will utilize the baby quilts on their calls, and will also donate some quilts to other ambulance services. Above, Ball is pictured with John Lata, a MMR paramedic, holding the baby quilts.

Bedeau took part in the Run for the Border Ride two years ago, and said he just wants to let soldiers know that veterans at home support "Hometown Heroes" returning from the battlefield in Iraq and Afghanistan.

"We don't want them to be treated the way we were when we returned home," Bedeau said.

The Run for the Border is held in conjunction with the seventh annual Veterans Motorcycle Rally in Sault Ste. Marie. Events started with a pre-rally "Fire Up" party at the American Legion Post #3 in Sault Ste. Marie on Thursday evening, which was open to the public. On Friday, the rally included games, give aways and a Fox Hole Run. The event is similar to a poker run, where motorcycle riders drive to different locations to receive a playing card to determine who finishes with the best poker hand. The State of Michigan now requires a lottery license for the runs, so the name was changed to Fox Hole Run to pay tribute to veterans and raise funds for the Hometown Heroes.

"We see how much money we can come up with and we get it to the people in need," Woodgate said.

An opening ceremony, to honor veterans, was held on Friday, along with short and longer bike trips throughout the eastern Upper Peninsula. Bike parades and a blessing of the bikes ceremony were held on Saturday.

"We get a lot of riding in," Woodgate said. The rally concluded with a bike rodeo and games and a raffle for a new Harley Davidson motorcycle.

Woodgate was drafted for the Vietnam War, but was assigned to serve his tour of duty in Germany. "I was one of the lucky ones," he said.

A member of the Michigan Army National Guard's 1437th Engineer Company, Woodgate served in 2003 for Operation Iraqi Freedom. The unit was in support of the 1st Marine Expeditionary Forces.

Woodgate has been in the military for 33 years. Last year, the Run for the Border and the Veterans Motorcycle Rally generated $3,000. Organizers hoped to draw over 1,000 motorcyclists to the rally this year. Funds from this year's event will go toward a scholarship to honor two Sault Ste. Marie soldiers killed in action while fighting the war on terrorism.

Army Spec. Christopher T. Griffin, 24, died on Oct. 3, 2009, in Kandesh, Afghanistan, of wounds suffered in an enemy attack on a contingency outpost. He was assigned to the 3rd Squadron, 61st Cavalry Regiment, 4th Brigade Combat Team, 4th Infantry Division based at Fort Carson, Colo.

Army Spec. Brandon Steffey, 23, died on Oct. 25, 2009, in a roadside bombing. He was a combat tracking dog handler based at Fort Hood, Texas, and was on his second tour of duty.

American Legion Rider Mike Greenleaf from Sault Ste. Marie knows what it is like to come home a wounded warrior. He was deployed to Vietnam in 1968 prior to the Tet Offensive.

The Tet Offensive was a military campaign during the Vietnam War that began on January 31, 1968. Forces for the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese Army, fought against the forces of the South Vietnam, the United States and their allies. The purpose of the offensive was to strike military and civilian command and control centers throughout South Vietnam and to spark a general uprising among the population that would then topple the Saigon government.

The operations are referred to as the Tet Offensive because they began during the early morning hours of January 31, 1968, the first day of the year on a traditional lunar calendar and the most important Vietnamese holiday. Both North and South Vietnam announced on national radio broadcasts that there would be a two-day cease fire during the holiday.

"I spent five and a half months in Vietnam and eight months in a hospital," Greenleaf said.

Beckett stressed that the water has always been safe to drink and there is no need to boil water before using it. He added that he consulted with Michigan Department of Natural Resources and Environment on the community's proactive plan to address the water system.

Beckett said boil water advisory warnings are issued when E. coli and fecal coliform, bacteria associated with waste products, are detected in a water system.

water tower and at six different locations throughout the city on Friday, which all came back negative for Coliform bacteria. He repeated the samples on Saturday, which also resulted in the negative results for the bacteria.

Beckett said the DPW would continue to chlorinate throughout the week with the current chlorine supply the city has on hand. "We're going to chlorinate the rest of the week to make sure everything is good and clean," Beckett said.

Black Bear Bicycle Tour could feature more than 350 riders

2010 marks 10-year anniversary for annual event

While most early Sunday mornings find few people in downtown Grayling, in the early morning hours of July 25 the area will team with over 500 riders, family and friends for the start of the 2010 Avita Water Black Bear Bicycle Tour.

"It's pretty impressive," said Fred Fisher III, Rotarian and co-chair for the event. He noted that this year's entries include not only Michigan riders but riders and visitors from Washington, Arizona, Tennessee, Illinois, Colorado, South Carolina, Indiana and Ohio.

The riders depart in front of The Bicycle Shop and head for North Down River Road on the way to Oscoda, located at the mouth of Lake Huron.

Riders start the morning after the AuSable River Canoe Marathon - the grueling canoe race from Grayling to Oscoda. The bike course crosses the river several times as they follow the canoes to Oscoda. Snack stations are available at five locations where riders can pick up fruit and water or a muffin. Some of the riders hurry past while others stop for a snack and chat. As the riders travel to Oscoda there are flag workers at each corner to keep riders going in the right direction.

According to locals, the Black Bear crowd brings more people to Glennie than any other event during the year.

The end of the bike tour allows the riders to watch the canoes of the marathon come in along the Oscoda Back Bridge next to the AuSable River Store and Oscoda Canoe Rental toward the finish line.

In 2001, 58 riders participated in the first Black Bear Bicycle Tour. It is expected that there will be more than 350 entries for the 10th running of the Black Bear Bicycle Tour. Last year's event saw a different starting procedure that released 10 riders per minute.

The first riders depart at 8 a.m. and a new wave lines up each minute thereafter. Each rider is given a timing chip to wrap around the fork of their bike near the front wheel. The timing chip triggers their start and finish time so after the event they have an accurate indication of how long it took them to ride the 100 miles. The bicycle community calls riding 100 miles a "Century Ride." The shortest time on record has been 3 hours and 38 minutes and the longest 11 hours and 45 minutes.

This year will see the return of a number of recumbent riders. Recumbent bicycles differ from traditional bikes in that you sit in them and your legs are out front. They are much more comfortable than a regular bike but a little difficult to start from a standing stop. Additionally, they tend to not catch as much wind resistance as a traditional bike. There was an international meet of recumbent riders at the Ford Test Track in Romeo that included riders from France and the Netherlands. One rider exceeded 50 miles per hour for an entire 60 minutes of riding. An article reporting on the event mentioned the Black Bear as a popular event in the area, which has led to a few more recumbent riders than usual. The Black Bear serves as a Grayling Rotary Club fund-raiser for service projects and as a way to bring additional visitors to the area.

In 2007 the event was given nationwide recognition by Bicycling Magazine as the "Cool Ride of the Month." Bicycling Magazine is the leading national publication for bicyclists with a circulation of 310,000. They pick only one event nationwide for this designation each month.

Every penny that is raised from the Black Bear goes to support Rotary Club service projects that include - but are not limited to - clean water projects for developing countries, bicycle helmets for children attending the Grayling Bicycle Rodeo, economic development programs and the ongoing effort to eradicate polio from the planet.

Riders participate in a finishers' raffle where prizes vary from being worth a dollar or two up to a brand new bicycle.

"It does not matter how fast you ride, everyone gets a chance at the new bicycle," said Rotarian JoAnne Neil.

The Avita Water Black Bear Bicycle Tour starts at 8 a.m. on Sunday, July 25, in downtown Grayling. Participants can enter on the day of event. Registration starts at 6 a.m. Early riders will be arriving in Oscoda between 11:40 a.m. and noon. The last of the tour participants typically arrive as late as 5 p.m. Additional information on the event is available at 989-370-5757 and on the web at <http://www.grayling-area.com/blackbear2010>.

C-1, C-2 canoe races slated for this weekend

Spike's Challenge events to be held on July 17-18

by Caleb Casey
Senior Staff Writer

The 2010 Spike's Challenge – a weekend of canoe racing that includes both C-1 (one-person) and C-2 (two-person) events – is slated for July 17-18.

Many AuSable River Canoe Marathon teams will use the Spike's Challenge C-2 race as a warm-up event. The Spike's Challenge features a start that is similar to the AuSable Marathon – teams line up in the street and run to the river, entering the water at the Old AuSable Fly Shop – and the race gives paddlers and spectators a daytime look at the first four checkpoints of the 120-mile Grayling-to-Oscoda event slated for July 24. The Spike's Challenge C-2 race starts in the morning (9 a.m.) and the AuSable Marathon starts at night (9 p.m.).

Similar to the AuSable Marathon, Spike's Challenge teams will compete for starting positions for the run to the river with a time trials event. This year, the Spike's Challenge time trials will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 17. Sprints are held at the city park in Grayling. Teams start near the pedestrian bridge, paddle upstream, navigate under a railroad bridge, turn around at a buoy near the courthouse, and finish the looped course by going back to the starting line. The fastest teams will finish in 4.5 to 5.5 minutes. There will be breaks in between batches so the next sprinters can warm up on the course.

The time trials event generally provides a strong forecast of which teams will finish in the top spots during Sunday's C-2 race. Last year, 13 of the top 15 teams at time trials also finished in the top 15 for the race.

Last year's C-2 race featured a total of 79 canoes – 67 in the expert class and 12 in the amateur class – and race organizers are expecting a similarly large number in 2010.

"I would imagine between 70 and 80 boats again this year," said John Lucey, one of the Spike's Challenge organizers. "Makes the sprints on the pond a full day event, but it's manageable. Right now, we are doing okay."

On Sunday morning (July 18, 9 a.m.), teams will line up on Peninsular Avenue according to sprint times, with each row of canoes 25 feet apart, Lucey said, which is different than the 40 feet apart for the AuSable Marathon's start.

"The Spike's race is a little more congested but it makes for an exciting start," Lucey said.

The Spike's Challenge starting run – like the AuSable Marathon's – utilizes a portion of Ingham Street on the way to the river at the Old AuSable Fly Shop. The City of Grayling Competitors run to the river with their canoes during the start of the 2009 Spike's Challenge C-2 race.

Spike's Challenge C-1 racers leave the starting line at Borchers during the 2009 event.

currently has a reconstruction project going on Ingham Street; city officials recently said the project "should be 80 to 90 percent complete" before race time.

"They said it was going to be done," Lucey said.

The Spike's Challenge C-2 race will end at McMaisters Bridge – the fourth of the AuSable Marathon's official timing checkpoints. Teams will reach the finish line in approximately 2.5 to 4 hours. (Teams finish the 120-mile AuSable Marathon in 14 to 19 hours.)

At 6 p.m. on Saturday, July 17, C-1 paddlers will race from Borchers AuSable Canoeing to Burton's Landing, reaching the finish line in 40 to 60 minutes, approximately. Forty-seven paddlers competed in last year's Spike's Challenge C-1 race.

Redskins add sign up days

At the Grayling Redskins board meeting on Sunday, board members and their families assisted with the inventory of equipment to prepare for the upcoming season.

The Grayling Redskins Football Program is one of many area programs within the Stanley Anthony Machulis league, which was established 19 years ago.

"This should be a great year," Grayling Redskins Board President Larry Duvall said. "We are excited to welcome many new families to become a part of the Redskins program, and look forward to seeing those who return."

With the increased interest in the Redskins program, there will be additional sign ups for youth (grades 3-8) who would like to participate in football and cheerleading this season. Sign ups will be held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Thursday, July 22, at the Grayling City Park as well as 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Aug. 7, at the Redskins Field.

Practices for the 2010 season will begin Monday, Aug. 9, at the field for all ages registered for football and cheerleading.

"This is a wonderful program that encourages area youth and their families an opportunity to get involved in activities that are healthy and fun," said Grayling Redskins Board Member Bambi Mansfield.

For further information you may call Barb at 710-0090 (football) or Rhonda at 745-5243 (cheerleading).

Grayling Country Club News

Wednesday Ladies League

by Donna Thomson

After a beautiful July 4th weekend of fun, family and fireworks, the Wednesday ladies were anxious to golf. The day was very hazy, hot and humid but that's okay, it's time for warmth. I love to walk our beautiful course, as do others, but today we all rode. Temps were pushing 90, so better to be safe.

These gals also were hot in their game as in Flight A, Lynda Hetrick had a low net of 28 and she tied for low putts of 14 with Kay Ellen King.

In Flight B, Nancy Glasslee took it all with a low net of 29 and low putts of 14.

In Flight C, there was a tie for low net of 31 between Nancy Hoffman and Shirley Young and a tie for low putts of 16 between Carole Batway and Shirley Young.

There were no chip-ins today, but two birdies were had on #7, by Lynda Hetrick and Kay Ellen King.

We also had a surprise game and that was for the best poker hand which was won by Evie Kent with four nines. So happy the golf committee has re-instituted a game of the week. Just one more way to make our day most enjoyable.

After we came in to our nice air conditioned clubhouse, we had either a spinach salad with chicken and dressing and a roll, or a turkey, ham wrap with a side.

Would love to have gone out for another round, but was a bit too warm, so went home and chilled with a good book.

Until next week, that's all "fore" now.

Tuesday Morning Ladies League

Results for July 6: We had a great day of golf with high temperatures and lots of humidity to put our skills to the test. JoAnn Michal had the best day ever. She chipped in on hole #9, giving her a par, had low putts of 29 for the day, and won two skins. Nancy Glasslee was subbing for the day and had a chip-in on hole #15. Linda Marcereau and Roxanne James took three skins each and Linda Fouts got one skin. Mickey Perez and Debi Bonkoski moved back into first place and Katy McNamara and Bev McNamara took over second place.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."
—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission

New cat climbing equipment installed at AVAS

Carefully inspecting the colorful new climbing equipment recently installed in the cat room at AuSable Valley Animal Shelter in Grayling are from left, Ashley, Chowder, Harrison and Rico. This addition provides the stimulus cats need to stay happy and healthy while awaiting adoption. Materials for the project were donated by Pro Build of Grayling and McLean's Ace Hardware. Terry Green built it, his wife, Peggy (a shelter board member) painted it, and Brian Feldhauser installed it. The shelter is full with about 30 cats and kittens in need of new homes.

Argentina teen to perform for AuSable River Festival

by Dan Sanderson
Staff Writer

An angelic voice from Argentina will be heard in Grayling next week to entertain locals and visitors during the AuSable River Canoe Marathon and Festival.

Milagros Ceballos Serra, sometimes called Millie by her friends, will arrive in Grayling to perform at a number of locations during the AuSable River Festival. She was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina in February 1992. Her name, Milagros, translates to "miracles" and all who know her believe that is true. Serra was raised in a home where everyone shares a great love of music and art. She has had the support of her entire family to develop her musical vocation.

Clarine Jorella, treasurer for the Lions Club of Grayling, has known the Serra family for years. Jorella worked for 25 years as the executive meeting planner for the board of directors for Kimberly-Clark. The company's well-known care products include Kleenex, Scott, Andrex, Huggies, Pull-Ups, Kotex, Poise and Depend, and are sold in more than 80 countries. Serra's father, Guillermo, serves as legal counsel and human resources director for Kimberly-Clark in Buenos Aires, which is the capital of Argentina.

Serra sings rock songs, ballads, sings songs written by other artists as well as originals. She sings in Spanish and English.

"She's a very, vibrant entertainer," Jorella said.

"She's an incredible young woman," added Crawford County Clerk/Register of Deeds Sandra Moore, who is a Lions Club of Grayling member.

Serra is a student of journalism, piano studies and writes short stories and songs.

Serra's first public appearance was at a party with more than 250 guests where she sang on a table so the guests could see her. She was only 10 years old. Since then, she has continued to study singing with some of the best teachers in Argentina.

During school, Serra studies Spanish in the morning and English in the afternoons. After school is filled with dance, voice and skating lessons, followed by dinner and homework.

"I decided they (the Argentinians) sleep hardly at all," Jorella. "I don't see how they can sleep. They are so busy, but that's the lifestyle that they live."

For several years Serra has performed in many musical comedies, dramas and dances. She has performed at many concerts in Argentina.

Milagros Serra

Serra, 18, feels and lives each of the songs she performs as if it were her last. She is about to release her first album, "Awakens Sleeping." The album contains songs such as "I Don't Want," "With It or Without Me," "Hero Comic Book" and "I'm Going for Your Love."

During her visit to Grayling, she will perform at:

- Noon on Tuesday, July 20 in the Crawford County Courthouse lobby.
- 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 21 at Dharma Music.
- 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 22 at the Crawford County Library.
- 6:40 p.m. on Friday, July 23 at the AuSable Valley Inn (formerly Ramada Inn) for the Special Olympians and Paddlers Dinner.
- 12:40 p.m. on Saturday, July 24 at the Car Show in downtown Grayling.
- 3 p.m. Saturday during the AuSable River Festival Parade.
- 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Saturday during the pre-AuSable River Marathon entertainment.

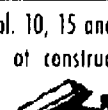

"We wanted to give her as much exposure and let her entertain as many people in Crawford County as we could," Jorella said. That's why she's coming up here and is going to sing her heart out for Crawford County."

Her father and mother, Viviana, and guitarist Joaquin Crededio will join Serra.

The website to get a taste of Serra's music is <http://www.milagrosweb.com>.
